INVEST IN MANUFACTURING

YOUR GATEWAY TO INVESTMENT IN THE HORN OF AFRICA

Manufacturing Industry

Since 1997, Somaliland has experienced stable growth in the registration of industries, with the highest number of new registrations recorded in 2025. Despite this growth, industries registered in the early 2000s have demonstrated better sustainability, potentially due to favorable economic conditions and effective business strategies. Among Somaliland's six regions, Maroodi-jeex leads in the number of registered industries, indicating a more conducive environment for industrial growth.

Somaliland's industrial sector is undergoing a transformational shift, emerging as a key exporter of manufactured and processed goods. With over 56 operational industries, the country is seeing increased investment in industrial parks, agro-processing, textile manufacturing, and construction materials, positioning it as a regional production hub. The Berbera Economic Zone (BEZ) is a game-changer, offering world-class infrastructure, tax incentives, and strategic access to global markets via the Berbera Port, attracting both local and international manufacturers.

With the Ministry of Investment and Industrial Development backed policies that encourage investment and a strong push toward industrialization, Somaliland is solidifying its role as a key supplier in the Horn of Africa, the Gulf region, and beyond. As production capacity grows and trade networks strengthen, the country is set to double its industrial exports in the coming decade, unlocking significant economic opportunities for investors.

As Somaliland continues to develop its industrial landscape, there are opportunities to expand its manufacturing capabilities, address regional disparities, and enhance the sustainability of newly registered industries.
